ENEMY TWICE VICTORIOUS

Stahl Regrets to Report One Loss of
4 to 3 and Another of 2 to 0.
Couldn't Bat.

Nearly 15,000 fans journeyed out to the baseball park yesterday afternoon, confident that the Nationals would take sweet revenge upon the Boston champions for the defeat in the morning by 4 to 3. But the Fates decreed that it should be otherwise, and the home fellows went down for the second time to the tune of 2 to 0.

This was due to the big precursor who occupied the middle of the diamond—one Cyrus Young, better known throughout fandom as "Cy." Some critics have been weak-minded enough to say that Mr. Young was going back, but those who saw the big fellow work yesterday put the loud "Ha! Ha!" on such an assercion.

Punky Hits.

Six hits fell the way of the Nationals, but four of them were punk infield stabs. Only two drives went into the outfield, and Mullen got both.

Townsend was not far behind the veteran in the twirling line. He allowed five hits, three of which came in the eighth inning, but nobody scored. But for his base on balls to Collins in the second and Cassidy's error in the fifth Boston would not have scored.

Joe Cassidy was the fielding star of the game. He accepted ten out of his eleven chances, and fell down while going after a Texas leaguer which either Jones or Huelsman should have taken.

NOTES OF THE NOTABLES.

Captain Stahl showed he knew the balk rule when he balked in the first round. He waited until Young wound up and was nearly at second before it was realized what he was doing. Young did not take the trouble to unwind and throw to the base for he knew Stahl was sure of the base on a balk.

Jones failed to judge Grimshaw's fly-bouncer in the second and it went for two bases, scoring Collins. It is seldom he goes wrong on such a hit.

Mullen had more luck than judgment on his bunt in the second inning. It was high and too far, but batted badly, and Ferris could not reach it.

Will Cy Young ever be relegated to the shelf? He pitched with an easy body movement, which should enable him to last for the next ten years and be as strong as it has been for the past ten years.

That high, long fly Kittredge drove to Freeman in the eighth. Mullen was on first, was typical of the hard luck he has had ever since the season opened.

The demand of the Boston fans for Selbach was apparently justified by the way he won the morning game with his timely double.

Knoll did a circus juggle with Parent's fly in the fifth, and he was much surprised when he found that he held the ball.

Hill gave a sample of his best manipulation of slow hits and bunts when he caught Young in the fifth.

Notes.

Racing on a par with that of the grand circuit meet last week was seen at Brightwood yesterday afternoon. The threatening clouds which overcast the sky at midday kept many persons away from the track, but notwithstanding the weather conditions 1,600 persons were present.

The Winners.

A 2:28 trot, 2:25 pace, free-for-all, and a running race comprised the program. Myron H. won the trot, Nellie R. the pace, Sam McKay the free-for-all, and Alack the saddle event.

In the free-for-all the closest heat of the day was seen. Sam McKay and Toboggan were on even terms in the full mile, but the Javins horse came fast under the wire and beat Toboggan a head. Sam McKay, however, was set back for repeated running, breaking five times.

CATARRH

Gentlemen—I wrote you some time ago, giving you an account of my sufferings with an awful case of Catarrh. I had all the symptoms that accompany this disease, such as mucus dropping in the throat, a constant desire to hawk and spit, feeling of dryness in the throat, cough and spitting upon rising in the morning, scabs forming in the nose, which required much effort to blow out, sometimes causing the nose to bleed and leaving me with a sick headache. I had this suffered for five years. As soon as I heard from you, I commenced to take S. S. S. as you advised, and after I had taken three large bottles, I noticed a change for the better. Thus encouraged, I continued to take it, and in a short while was entirely cured.

224 Randolph St., Richmond, Va. JUDSON A. BELLUM.

I contracted Catarrh and suffered terribly with it for 25 years. It was so bad that I had lost my hearing, sense of taste, as well as being nearly blind. I tried various medicines and specialists, spending a large sum of money with them, but with no perceptible results, so I abandoned all other remedies and doctors and began using your S. S. S. I took three large bottles and one small bottle, when much to my joy I found myself a well man. All my senses were fully recovered, and after fifteen years I am happy to relate that I have never had the slightest return of the ailment. I am now 75 years old and enjoy good health for my age. I cheerfully and gratefully recommend S. S. S. as the remedy that cured me of Catarrh.

Fordyce, Ark. L. S. LOCHRIDGE.

If winter is to be dreaded for its snows, icy, cutting winds and damp, unpleasant weather, it is more to be dreaded because it brings with it the most annoying and disgusting of diseases—Catarrh. The changed condition of the weather brings on "bad colds" which irritate the inner skin and tissues, and they secrete an unhealthy matter that is absorbed by the blood and scattered all through the system in its circulation, and at the first sign of winter the patient begins to "hawk and spit." All the mucous membranes and tissues of the body are affected by this disease, and the filthy, poisonous matter finds its way to every part of the body, making the sufferer dull and half sick all the time. The head and eyes have blinding aches, the stomach bloats, the hearing is often affected, and in its worse forms the soft bones of the nose and head are destroyed. Local applications such as sprays, washes and inhalations can do no more than give temporary relief, because the blood is constantly circulating through the system loaded with these filthy catarrhal poisons, and it must be purified and cleansed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Catarrh by its invigorating, purifying action on the blood, and the catarrhal poisons are carried off through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and strong, carries healthful properties to the organs and tissues, the unhealthy secretions cease, and the whole system is built up by it. Don't let a "bad cold" become chronic Catarrh, but at the first symptom begin the use of S. S. S. and fortify the system against it. Our book on The Blood will be mailed free, and our physicians will give advice to all catarrh sufferers without charge.
